

2019 Conference Agenda

Clay Early Childhood Center (CEC), Harris-Stowe State University, St. Louis, MO

Saturday, April 6, 2019

Time	Activity	Location
8:00 - 8:30	Registration and Breakfast	Lobby CEC
8:30 - 8:45	Opening Remarks	204 CEC Lect. Hall
8:45 - 9:45	Keynote Address: Mathematical Sciences and You William Velez, Distinguished Professor in Mathematics, University of Arizona	204 CEC Lect. Hall
9:45 - 10:15	Success is Not Just Being the Best , Kyle Sykes, 1904labs	204 CEC Lect. Hall
10:15 - 10:30	Networking Coffee Break	Lobby CEC
10:30 - 11:00	Facing the Challenge to Get Past Your Limits , Kelly Ballard, St. Louis Community College	204 CEC Lect. Hall
11:00 - 11:30	Use of Mathematical Modeling to Plan Chemical Experimentation Michael Hankins, Southern Illinois University Edwardsville	204 CEC Lect. Hall
11:30 - 12:00	A Black Combinatorialist and his Asymptotic Expansion Charles Burnette, St. Louis University	204 CEC Lect. Hall
12:00-1:00	Paving A Unique Path in STEM, a student lunch-time panel	204 CEC Lect. Hall
1:00-1:45	Concurrent Sessions A
	The Graduate Math Experience (Rm 217) Kelly Ballard, Charles Burnette, Atzimba Martinez	217 & 218 CEC
	Recruiting Students to Mathematics (Rm 218) William Velez
1:45-2:30	Concurrent Sessions B
	Undergraduate Experience & REU (Rm 217) Carissa Villaneuva, Rochelle Smith	217 & 218 CEC
	Gateway Alliance Mentors (Rm 218)
2:30 - 2:45	Networking Coffee Break	Lobby CEC
2:45 - 3:30	Mathematics in Art and Architecture Anneke Bart, St. Louis University	204 CEC Lect. Hall
3:30 - 3:45	Closing Remarks	204 CEC Lect. Hall
3:45 - 5:00	Alliance Faculty Meeting	217/218 CEC