

The Urban Book Series

Catalina Freixas
Mark Abbott Editors

Segregation by Design

Conversations and Calls for Action
in St. Louis

 Springer

BOOK EVENT

Segregation By Design: Conversations And Calls For Action In St. Louis

Sponsored by:

THE HARRIS-STOWE STATE UNIVERSITY INSTITUTE FOR SOCIAL JUSTICE

Telecommunity Room - Harris -Stowe State University
Thursday, February 28th - 12.00-3.00 pm

12:30 Welcome

Candice Idlebird, Director of the Institute for Social Justice

12:45-1:30 Book Overview by the Editors

Catalina Freixas, Assistant Professor of Architecture, SFS, Washington University in St. Louis
Mark Abbott, Professor Emeritus of History, Harris-Stowe State University

1:30-2:15 Discussion of Chapter 4 Essay

“Separate but Unequal: The Lasting Legacy of Segregation and the Problem with Integration”
Daffney Moore, Adjunct Professor of Urban Affairs, Harris-Stowe State University

2:15-3:00 Response to the Essay by Harris-Stowe Faculty

Moderator

Candice Idlebird, Director of the Institute for Social Justice

Panel Members

Reynaldo Anderson, Chair Department of Humanities

Greg Carr, Instructor of Theater

Aldophus Hardy, Instructor of Criminal Justice

Sudarsan Kant, Dean College of Arts and Sciences

JohnDavid Kerr, Associate Professor of Business

Dwyane Smith, Provost